

The CambridgeCNT Symposium 2008 will take place on Friday, 5 December 2008 at the University of Cambridge, United Kingdom. It is a one-day symposium where scientists will gather to exchange ideas about the science and application of carbon nanotubes and related structures. The symposium will also be a valuable occasion for industry delegates to interact with leading scientists from Cambridge and other institutions in Europe.

Programme

Speakers:

Bojan Boskovic - Dunlop Aerospace Braking Systems, Meggitt PLC

Caterina Ducat - Royal Society University Research Fellow, Materials Science and Metallurgy Department, University of Cambridge

Ben Farmer - Head of UK Composite Development, Airbus

Andrei Khlobystov - Associate Professor, European Young Investigator (EURYI) and Reader in Inorganic Chemistry, School of Chemistry, University of Nottingham

Aki Kumatani - London Centre for Nanotechnology, University College London (UCL)

Mark Mann - Electrical Engineering Division, Engineering Department, University of Cambridge

Petra Potschke - Department of Polymer Reactions and Blends, Leibniz Institute of Polymer Research, Dresden

Markku Rouvala - Nano Devices Team, Nokia Research Center

Kenneth Teo

Event Location

University of Cambridge